We care for ALL cats.

We are non-discriminatory in our love for cats: none are the wrong color, size or gender; none are too old or too young; none are too ill to be valued, loved and treated with dignity.

Dear Kitties,
 Why do cats lay on humans?
 Sincerely,
 Cat Friend

Dear Cat Friend,
 There are many reasons why we lay down on our human friends. We enjoy warm places and your body heat is a great source of that. For some of us the sound and feel of your heartbeat and breathing may mimic the feeling of being a kitten and staying close to mom and littermates. We see humans as security and feel safe when we are close to them. And most importantly, it's because we love you and want to snuggle and bond with you.

WELCOME NEW VOLUNTEERS :

BY AMY MARTIN

If you have been to the shelter in recent months, you might have seen some new faces. That is because for the first time in almost 2 years we have new volunteers coming in to help. Last fall 23 new volunteers joined us to assist in helping keep the shelter clean, and the shelter cats fed and happy.

These new volunteers joined our wonderful veteran volunteers performing tasks such as the daily afternoon feeding, cleaning out litter boxes, weekly weighing the shelter cats, washing windows, and doing laundry. They help sort and organize our supplies. They do minor building maintenance, repairing and replacing those little things so important to keeping the building in tip-top shape. They are socializers, keeping company the shy cats, the scare cats, the unhappy and withdrawn cats.

The new volunteers joined our experienced volunteers helping with the annual Santa Paws festival in December. They helped with our other fundraising events, such as Catty Hour and Yoga. You will see them in future events as well.

All the Cat Care volunteers come to us with all kinds of unique and valuable skills and experiences. They share with our staff the unwavering devotion to cats and their well-being. We value their time, energy, skills and devotion.

So welcome to the Cat Care Society family, new volunteers! We are so happy to have you, and so are the kitties!

ADOPT ME: BRONX

BY CAT MILLER

Hey there, I'm Bronx! I am a sweet boy with a sassy side who knows what he wants. My likes include soft beds to lounge on and fun toys to play with. Sunshine is also something I enjoy as I find it very nice to lay in. My cattitude really comes out if I'm around other cats, but on my own I am a massive sweetheart and love head scratches.

Cat Care Society took me in after I became aggressive towards my owner's new partner. My bonding is very singular and will need someone who is going to stay single. My previous owner said I do not like children so it would be best if I went to a home where none will visit.

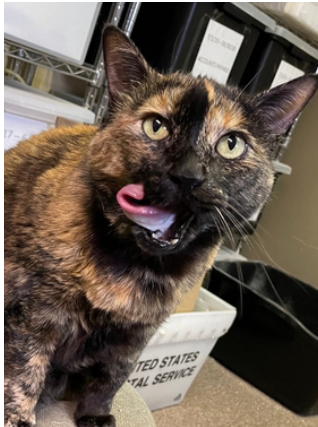

I am looking for a calm, single person household where I can be the only pet. My human and I are going to be the best of friends and I can't wait to meet them!

TORTITUDE

BY TARA DEENIHAN, JUNIOR BOARD MEMBER

Cat people know the word. We know the unique combination of affection, wrath, and independence that dance within our tri-colored feline friends. Whether you avoid them adore them, tortoiseshell cats are usually not shy about expressing themselves.

“Not shy” can be an understatement, of course. Cats contain multitudes and shatter our expectations.

This brings us to Lucca.

To call Lucca “not shy” would be like calling Colorado weather “a bit unpredictable.” Lucca is as likely to greet you by rubbing on your legs and chatting with you as by swinging at you so hard she leaves a shed claw embedded in your hand. (I speak from experience.)

In the interest of full disclosure, I should confess that I'm a sucker for a hard case. So when I left my first meeting with the beautiful 13-years-young chatty tortoiseshell cat who had settled into Cat Care Society after being surrendered by an owner unable to care for her with my hand freshly bloodied, I was in love.

Does Lucca understand my infatuation? Almost certainly not. Does my presence sometimes annoy her? Undoubtedly. But sometimes when she thinks I'm not paying attention I catch her giving me the slow blinks of true cat trust. And even when she grumbles at me while I sit and coo sweet nothings at her, I suspect she knows that even though I try way too hard and take too many pictures, I only want to earn her friendship.

And much to my envy, there are a few lucky humans on whom Lucca has bestowed her love. I've seen her so excited by the presence of one of these humans that she bursts from her comfy bed to run to their side. (On a few rare occasions I have received this happy greeting which tells me that I'm on my way to her very exclusive club of human besties.) If you've ever seen a cat with a reputation for being a grump absolutely light up at the sight of their Chosen One, you know just how special that is. And if you've been lucky enough to be that person, you know the special spring it puts in your step to be Chosen.

Maybe that's why I love the hard cases so much. Of course, I love the affectionate extroverts and the playful kittens too – but there's no feeling quite like the feeling the first time a cat who has shown nothing but fear or stress suddenly shows you trust. When I first experienced that feeling with my big orange boy Simba (a lover with a troubled past that led to a serious biting habit), I knew that I'd never grow tired of it.

I'm still working on Lucca. Some days I get to give her some gentle pets on her head, and some days I get told off before I even reach for her. Sometimes I just watch her play with a toy or talk to her or play her Taylor Swift songs (she's partial to the Reputation era). I dream of the day when Lucca will decide I have proven myself to her – almost as much as I dream of the day that Lucca will steal the heart of some lucky adopter forever.

Because beneath her rough exterior is a heart dying to shower someone with love. She just needs the right someone.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW? – ZIGGY

BY SUELLEN SCOTT

Ziggy came to Cat Care Society in April 2019 through the CCS Temporary Care Program. She was surrendered to CCS in June of 2019, 11 years young.

Ziggy was a shy sweet girl weighing in at over 13 pounds. She was living by herself in the CCS Meow Mart store on a weight loss diet. She did not seek out visitors but welcomed attention in the form of pets and catnip toys. She loves to rub your legs and has quite a purr.

Ziggy was adopted in November 2019 and has been living her best life bossing her humans around as much as possible and catching every sunbeam she can. She enjoys supervised visits with her squirrel and rabbit friends in her backyard domain. Ziggy also has a beautiful fireplace that she can warm up by after her excursions. Her humans like jigsaw puzzles and she is willing to assist whenever she can. Ziggy is also an expert laundry assistant.

She has a very large staircase where she can observe her humans. She can scope out visitors from above and make an entrance when she chooses.

Ziggy is enjoying her new meowdeling career and even chirps at her people when she has a good pose! She has fans across the United States and worldwide, including Japan, Russia, Germany, Sweden, England, and Brazil.

Ziggy has not been successful in her weight loss journey. She has regular vet checkups and refers to herself as big boned.
